CS2 roulette is a digital game of chance hosted on third-party websites where players use virtual weapon skins (or site-specific currency stemmed from depositing skins) to position bets on the result of a spinning wheel.

Unlike traditional gambling establishment roulette, which uses numbers 0 through 36, CS2 roulette wheels are usually divided into 3 or four color-coded sectors-- most commonly Red, Black, and Green (in some cases joined by an uncommon yellow or multiplier sector).

How a Standard Round Works:

1. Deposit: A gamer logs into a CS2 betting website utilizing their Steam account and deposits virtual weapon skins from their stock.
2. Conversion: The site values the skins in real-world currency (GBP, EUR) or site coins.
3. Wagering: Players put bets on which color the wheel will arrive at before the timer ends.
4. The Spin: The wheel spins digitally, and the winning color is figured out by a provably reasonable algorithm.
5. Payout: Winners receive a payout proportional to the chances of their selected color, while losers surrender their staked items/coins.

Understanding Wheel Variations and Odds

Different platforms offer unique twists on the classic formula. The payout structure straight correlates to the mathematical possibility of hitting a specific color. Below is a breakdown of the most typical roulette variations discovered across CS2 betting platforms.

Requirement 3-Color Roulette (Red, Black, Green)

Color Segment Payout Odds Approximate Probability Home Edge (Typical) Red 2x 47.5% ~ 5% (due to Green)
Black 2x 47.5% ~ 5% (due to Green) Green 14x 5.0% ~ 5%
