Most spiders in Roanoke homes are harmless and even helpful, since they eat other insects. Still, nobody wants webs in every corner of the basement, and two species found in Virginia, the black widow and, less commonly, the brown recluse, deserve real caution. Perdue Exterminators provides spider extermination for Roanoke homes and businesses, along with insect identification so you know whether the spider in your garage is a nuisance or a genuine risk.

Black widows prefer dark, undisturbed spots such as woodpiles, crawl spaces, meter boxes, outdoor furniture and the corners of sheds. Females are glossy black with a red hourglass marking underneath. Their bites are rare but can cause significant symptoms, so homes with children who play outdoors often want a professional to clear high risk areas. Brown recluse spiders are less common in this part of Virginia, but identification is still worth getting if you find a brown spider with a violin shaped marking.

The more common house spiders, wolf spiders and cellar spiders tend to show up when there is plenty for them to eat. A home with a lot of spiders often has an underlying insect problem, such as crickets in the basement or flying insects drawn to porch lights. Perdue's technicians look at the whole picture, because reducing the food supply is one of the most effective ways to bring spider numbers down.

A Practical Spider Plan

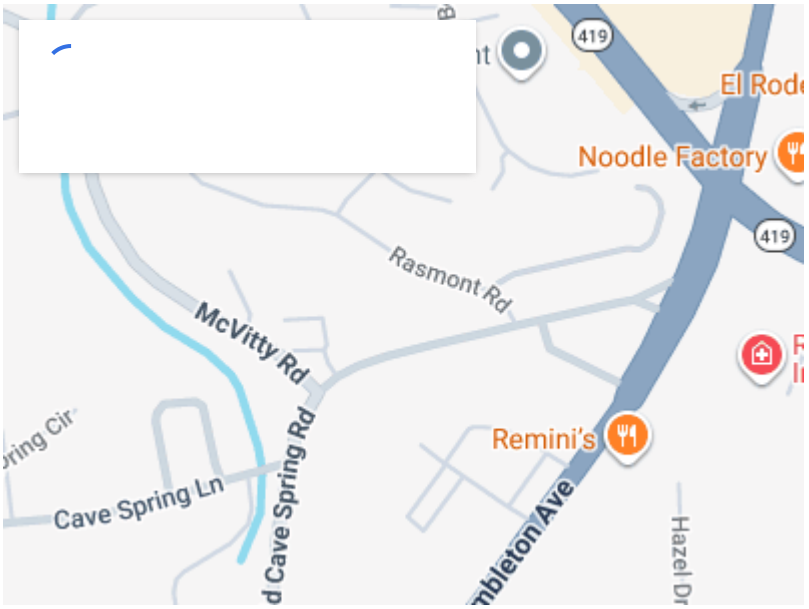

Treatment focuses on the places spiders hide and the routes they use to come indoors. Exterior perimeter treatment around the foundation, eaves and window frames reduces the number that make it inside. Inside, technicians target basements, crawl spaces and storage areas where webs build up. Homeowners can help by reducing clutter in basements and garages, sealing gaps around doors and windows, and switching outdoor lighting to bulbs that attract fewer insects.

Southwest Virginia's mix of wooded lots, https://orcid.org/0009-0001-4045-300X stone foundations and older outbuildings creates excellent spider habitat. Properties along Bent Mountain, around Back Creek and in the older parts of Salem often have detached garages and sheds that spiders love. FAQ About Pest Control Company Roanoke

How do I choose a pest control company in Roanoke?

Look for licensed exterminators, a long local track record and a company that inspects before it treats. Perdue Exterminators has served the Roanoke Valley since 1969, is still family owned and keeps a small team of long serving technicians who inspect each home's environment and construction before recommending treatment. Call (540) 989-8188 to talk it through.

How much does pest control cost in Roanoke, VA?

Cost depends on the pest, the size of the home and how established the problem is, so an inspection gives the most accurate answer. Perdue Exterminators offers free estimates on termite work and a free inspection and consultation for bed bugs, and the company lists reasonable rates among its priorities. Call (540) 989-8188 for a quote.

Are termites common in Roanoke, Virginia?

Yes. Eastern subterranean termites live in the soil across the Roanoke Valley, and humid summers, clay soil and damp crawl spaces give them ideal conditions. Swarms usually appear on warm spring days after rain. Perdue Exterminators has treated termites in local homes for more than five decades.

Do termite treatments come with a warranty?

At Perdue Exterminators, termite elimination comes with renewable annual warranties. Renewing each year keeps a professional inspecting the home and keeps protection in place, which suits a region where termite pressure returns every season. A documented warranty can also help when you sell your Roanoke home.

How can I tell if I have bed bugs?

Common signs are itchy bites in lines or clusters, small dark spots on sheets and mattress seams, and tiny reddish brown insects around the bed frame or headboard. Because other insects look similar, Perdue Exterminators starts every bed bug case in Roanoke, Salem and Vinton with a free inspection and consultation to confirm the problem first.

How long has Perdue Exterminators been in business?

S.G. Perdue founded the company in 1969, starting out of his house and the trunk of his car. His son Andre later joined the business, and today it is led by owner and President Jeff Hudson. It remains a family owned pest control company serving Roanoke.
